For more than three decades The Maple Counseling Center (TMCC) has helped tens of thousands of people, young and old alike, manage the hurdles of emotional times. The Center is considered one of the most comprehensive community counseling centers in the United States. As a Private, nonprofit community mental health center, TMCC offers a range of services from family therapy to crisis intervention, and provides an array of psychological counseling services for a wide range of individuals, from senior citizens to infants and from couples to entire families. The Center's philosophy of "never turning anyone away for lack of funds" has extended the reach and hope of wellness to those who cannot afford other counseling. Among TMCC's clients, 25% are unemployed, disabled or retired, and 47% earn below $20,000 per year. For more information, visit www.tmcc.org.
