The Maple Counseling Center Talks Workplace Relationships

On Wednesday, February 28th, The Maple Counseling Center hosted Where Do We Go from Here: Men and Women in the Workplace. The community forum was facilitated by TMCC’s Assistant Clinical Director Dr. Sharon Schwartz and the coordinator of TMCC’s Doctoral Training Program, Dr. Jessica Herzog. Participants shared their own experiences and discussed the impacts and benefits to workplace relationships and communication that have emerged from the current national dialogue.

The Maple Counseling Center's Partnership with Alexandria House

The Maple Counseling Center's Community-Based Preschool Mental Health Consultation and Early Intervention Program began a partnership with Alexandria House in 2017. Located in Koreatown, Alexandria House is a home and haven for mothers and their children; the majority of these families have experienced significant trauma and loss. Associates and trainees from the Child and Family Track work with children between the ages of two and six years old currently living at Alexandria House and attending the onsite Children's Center Program. The program also provides TMCC counselors with an opportunity to provide unique and highly specialized services to intervene when children are struggling and in need of support.

New Bereavement Group To Be Offered

The Maple Center is recruiting now for a new Bereavement Therapy Group, "Living after Loss." This group is for people coping with the loss of a significant adult person in their lives. If you or someone you know is interested in participating, please contact the Group Therapy Program line at (310) 271-9999 ext. 1801.

Drop-In Counseling Following Las Vegas Tragedy A Big Success

Late last year, The Maple Counseling Center offered information and mental health services to those impacted in any way by the Las Vegas shootings. A team of counselors was on-hand to help anyone needing to talk. Materials were provided on how tragic events like the Las Vegas shooting can increase stress among Americans (according to a 2017 survey by The American Psychological Association).

Anti-Bullying Discussion Held at Beverly Vista School

Following an anti-bullying assembly at Beverly Vista School, associates and trainees from TMCC's Adolescent and Child Therapy Program and leaders from The Community Circle facilitated discussions with students to discuss the impact of bullying on their lives and mental health. "These discussion groups were instrumental in providing students the chance to reflect on the assembly," according to school counselor Jamie Weddle. "The counselors and volunteers were also able to guide the conversation, making students feel safe and comfortable sharing their stories and personal experiences at school, at home and with their peers." Fantastic work, TMCC!

Remembering Lee Kapelovitz

The Maple Counseling Center pays tribute to the benefactor of "The Kapelovitz Psychiatry Program." Lee's compassion, generosity, and philanthropic endeavors included long-term support for TMCC's psychiatry services. This program enables TMCC clients to have access to low-fee medication evaluation and follow-up.

Doctoral Training Program Recruitment

There are currently five pre- and post-doctoral candidates in The Maple Counseling Center's Doctoral Internship Program. They are accruing hours towards licensing as clinical psychologists. Recruitment is now underway for the academic
